Providing Services

PADECO is an international development consulting company. With headquarters in Tokyo, PADECO is active throughout the world with experience in over 130 countries. Our multi-disciplinary background provides professional solutions efficiently and effectively in a "one-stop-shop" solution for our clients from project conception to completion.

A diversity of clients

PADECO enjoys a wide client base in developed and developing countries focused on national and local governments as well as international and bilateral development agencies but we also provide services to private sector clients. Although the robust solutions we offer lead to a number of repeat clients, we also actively pursue new client opportunities. The diversity of our clients demands flexibility in project implementation in order to further the development of the world.
